FOREWORD

As we look out into the World, we see many new hopes and dreams. We realize, that soon, we are to leave Marlinton High School. It is now the time for our year-book.

We hope that you will enjoy it as much as we enjoyed giving it to you. May many happy memories come to those who leaf through the pages of this book. May our work not be in vain.

We give to you our book . . . . . The 1955 Marlintonian.

ALMA MATER

DEDICATION

TO OUR PARENTS . . . . . .

We dedicate our yearbook. To you, our parents, we offer this record of our hopes, dreams, and accomplishments.

We hope you will keep this record on the marquee of your minds, for all of it, each tiny part, each perfect whole, is yours. You, our directors and producers, deserve top billings . . . . . When we didn't quite know our lines, or were missing some of our props, you provided them. You wrote the script, we merely acted our parts and we hope it pleases you.

You kept us from covering our tiny imperfections with an excess of grease paint. You showed us how to revise the scene, to make it fit for production.

We were in the center of the stage, then as now, and you were in the wings cheering us on, making us stars, and for this moment we want you to take the spotlight and accept our undying thanks and gratitude.

This is "Our Year"; we are the M.H.S. Seniors! Glory isn't all there is to being a Senior. We are expected to set an example.
For three years we have been learning new facts, persuing individual interests, and building character.
Graduation is here. It signifies all that we have accomplished during these happy years.

OUR CURTAIN RISES

Curtain Time!!! Press Agents busily typed the program-dashing madly here and there, gathering script---We find Dewey Ross trailing scads of advertising. At last we hit the front page!! Tommy Dunbrack checks the entrance cues. Lights out!!! We're on stage. Frances Astin is in the wings jotting down notes for our later career and Jimmy Hannah is taking care of the ticket sales. Reporting our progress is Annette Rucker and keeping our spirits high are Shirley Mace, Pat VanReenan, and Mary Sue White. Front page news that year was our assembly programs, "Christmas in Different Lands" and "The Music of Stephen Foster." Even though our prompters Mr. White and Mrs. Bell were necessities, we'll make actors yet.

Watch Him Grin

"THANKS" Elroy"

Golly, you say we'll get on the stage this year??? Well, anyway we'll get to study scripts at least. Making sure we're on our toes are Mrs. Moore and Coach Barton, and frantically trying to make us learn our lines (script lines, that is) is David Mason with his 'ever faithful' assistant, Jim Hannah, helping him out. Keeping track of our progress is Frances Astin and counting our pennies is Shirley Mace. We must really be good this year 'cause Pat VanReenan, Shirley Mace, and Karen Williams are sure cheering about something. Of course, they could be yelling 'cause our boys won the class tournament. Those understudies are tops.

Love That Weather

Forest Festival

Quiet in the Wings!!! Gee, our first real practice. Even if we don't get our names in lights, we might get to stand-in for someone. Miss Shiffler and Mr. Brill are around to cue us in, just in case. Keeping our minds on our script is David Mason, and Teddy McClure is busy keeping David's mind on his script. The same girl with a different name (Frances Buzzard) is still taking notes. This year we've managed to make a little money and Marolyn Barlow is trying desperately to get it counted. What's all that noise? Oh--- just Phyllis McNeill, Karen Williams and Pat Van Reenan applauding for us. Keeping our cheering public posted on our play, STRICTLY FORMAL, was Jon Young. What a play!!! Hard on our low bank account was that fancy banquet we gave the "Heroes of 54" but in spite of that, our 'lil ole' southern belles really sparkled at the Junior - Senior Prom. Great were those Stand-Ins!!!!!

Junior Picnic

Don't Smear

CURTAIN TIME!!! We find ourselves waiting our cues from our new prompters, Mrs. Coyner and Mr. McElwee who keep saying "Now, Now, Be Calm--- Don't get shook!" In one unbelievable moment with a twinge of sadness and a heap of gladness we find ourselves in the limelight. We are the Stars of this Extravaganza! Jon Young steps into the leading role ably assisted by his comtemporary partner in Dramatics, Carolyn Barlow, who is busily orientating herself and us for our premier appearance by dashing up and down the halls chanting, "This Show Must Go On"!! Printing our programs for the 1955 performance, Frances Buzzard relaxes long enough to practice her line, "What do you know, I'm a star." The atomic sprite of this year's Follies is Marolyn Barlow (The girl with the Cigar Box) whose important lines run on like this: "Deadline! Pay Class Dues, PLEASE,---Just a little Ad?? Deadline, Deadline"! No play is complete without a bouncer and Lonnie Ratliff keeps practice period in good order. Sitting on the front row raving about our performance in "LINE OF SCRIMMAGE" is Karen Williams, Pat Van Reenan and Phyllis McNeill. Macbeth was never like that! To be sure our premier wardrobes are in the best fashions, we had a Style Show and Talent Show!! And what talent we actors have!!!! Now for our final dress rehearsal--Graduation. Thus preparing us for Star Roles in our Life Performance.

A.D.D.

Service is its own reward but it can be fun too. This group, the A.D.D.s -- "Big Sisters" of the Athletic Department, -- has a full schedule of "diversified occupations." ---Selling tickets, candy, and cokes at home games-----soliciting ads for athletic events--- preparing hot chocolate and sandwiches for visiting teams and guests--operating that famous "sweet," the "M.H.S. Doghouse" --- serving in community drives, these girls work around the clock.

The 1955 MARLINTONIAN has gone to press!! The story is told; nothing can be changed or added now. We hope that the work and time we have put into this book has created a MARLINTONIAN which will recall the happiest memories of each student. We wish to express our appreciation to our parents, our faculty, fellow-classmates, and patrons who have made this experience possible.
